Guayaquil, Ecuador Oct 31 - Nov 3, 2017

(Note: Discount deadline is in just one day from now! Register now)

Transform World International facilitator Luis Bush and GTN International President Mark Beliles invites you to join hundreds of leaders from 10 global regions for its annual summit. Attendees join one of the working groups responding to seven challenges that the church must solve. Mark Beliles has served as facilitator of the Justice challenge group but this year is supporting Yuri Mantilla. Yuri is originally from Bolivia, is professor of law at Liberty University in USA, and has extensive global experience in human rights. If you work in government, politics, law or social work, we need you there. Attendees are also assigned to one of the seven cultural sphere groups. Beliles also works with the government sphere group. Three generational age groups are invited so that this summit works in the most comprehensive manner for transformation of the nations. The annual summit is held in a different continent each year and is excited to be in South America. See photo below of last year's summit held in Thailand (Beliles is in middle of second row next to Paul Eshleman) Click here for more info and invitation. Transformation News:

Recent trips to Colombia, Chile and Peru

The transformation movement continues to grow in Colombia. Mark Beliles has been there five times already in 2017 working closely with Apostle Eduardo Canas and Paulo Fillion and others. Beliles spoke to about 800 young adults on this recent trip to train them about government and justice from a Biblical worldview. Mark's wife Nancy got to join him on this trip there and in San Andres, Colombia. See photo below of Mark, Nancy and Apostle Gordon there.

After that, Mark and Nancy went to Lima, Peru where Mark taught on government to hundreds of people at the invitation of Apostle Alicia Estremadoyro. Mark has visited this church 3 times as part of the Disciple Nations Alliance. Nancy also spoke about home-schooling to about a hundred people. About 20 families began doing this a few years ago after Mark first spoke on it. One of them is pastor Americo Davila and his wife. Nancy was able to encourage them and others from her experience as a home-school mother of 3. See her photo speaking in Peru below right.

Beliles was also in Santiago, Chile last month for an amazing new movement there started by Alan Roldan and his brother (see pic below). These two men have led the Chile for Jesus movement for years but now have felt called to help lead the Global Transformation Network there. Alan gathered virtually all the major bishops of every Evangelical group of churches in the whole nation and Beliles spoke to them about transforming government based on the new book seen below.

They have made a commitment together for their nation and this unity is unprecedented in Chile. Beliles was also privileged to speak in the historic Methodist Pentecostal church in the heart of Santiago (see below). In all of these places, Irene Squillaci of Bolivia continues to serve them as the Latin America director for
