

If a picture is worth a thousand words, then this video is worth a million. It is only five minutes and tells the story of how MVC workers dealt with the problems of hunger, malnutrition, and illiteracy in their community, and how these activities resulted in the growth of the church. The narrator is a Community Health Evangelist (CHE), one of tens of thousands of volunteers visiting homes in their community, helping them live healthy and productive lives while making them followers of Jesus.

The strategy behind the Million Village Challenge has mobilized tens of thousands of CHEs like these. They work together with the leaders of their communities to improve health, achieve food security, generate income, educate children, strengthen families, and plant churches. If you want to know more about how to multiply disciples while lifting whole communities out of cycles of poverty and disease, please contact terry@chenetwork.org and join the movement transform a million villages.

Look forward to hearing from you.
